

"The journey of a lifetime begins with a step"

What We Do

The UCAN training is designed to support both teens and their counselors in seeking out their goals/dreams in life by discovering and using the necessary resources to reach those dreams. EACH one of us has the possibility to access what it takes to be whatever it is we want to be! UCAN is a 5-day journey of the mind, body and spirit as we explore reality and our own lives through a different perspective.

Who We Are Looking For

UCAN has been designed to serve orphanages, rehabilitation/trauma centers and schools anywhere in the world.

In order to most effectively serve your group we have a minimum requirement of:

- 1) 15-30 participants between the ages of 13-18.
- 2) 3-10 teachers or counselors who the kids are familiar with and trust.

What Does It Take

UCAN requires at least a reservation at least 3 months prior to the time of the training to make travel arrangements etc...

If possible, sleeping arrangements should be made in advance for the trainers either on location or in a nearby hotel.

2-4 English speaking translators.

Logistics

Four of the five days of the seminar can be held on site at your location provided there is a room that can comfortably fit all of the participants.

For the middle day of the seminar, UCAN takes the kids and staff outside for an adventure. Ideally we look for either a ropes course, zip-line, rock-climbing, bungee jumping or another form of challenging outdoor activity where the kids can safely conquer their fears.

Note:

UCAN places an emphasis on providing to the specific needs of your particular organization. That is why we have a flexible curriculum designed to serve the specific needs of your facility and your children.

Who We Are

UCAN was started in 2007 to provide a new way of learning and healing for abused children. Since then we have expanded the seminar to fit the different needs of children who have been orphaned, abused, abandoned and otherwise victimized.
